

Looking at 2021: From crisis to opportunities

Public program as of September 21, 2020

Sunday 08 November
17:00-17:15	Welcoming remarks <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Miguel Alemán Velasco, Chairman of the Mexico Business Summit, Mexico • Quirino Ordaz Coppel, Governor of Sinaloa, Mexico
17:15-18:15	A Post Covid Global economy and the implications for Mexico
18:15-18:30	Break
18:30-19:45	What do the results of the US presidential election mean for Mexico
19:45-20:00	Break
20:00-21:00	A status report on the pandemic: A global and Mexico focused outlook. What prospects for a vaccine?

Monday 09 November
08:30-09:30	Readjusting global supply chains: What "nearshoring" opportunities for Mexico? What actions to extend the country's role as a major hub in reshaping global supply chains
09:30-09:45	Break
09:45-10:45	Working with the government: What ways to reduce uncertainty as a business killer and restore investors' confidence
09:45-10:45	Leveraging AI in industries and services
10:45-11:15	Break
11:15-12:15	Operating in the context of a "live USMCA": A balance sheet of "business as usual", the pluses and the minuses for Mexico
11:15-12:15	The new technologies that Mexico can leverage to become a Renewable Energy leader in Latin America
12:15-12:30	Break
12:30-13:30	How to rebuild Tourism as the driver of growth Mexico needs?

Addressing Mexico and the region's strategic challenges

Tuesday 22 October
08:30-09:30	Leveraging the technologies that will help jump-start growth
09:30-09:45	Break
09:45-10:45	Government policies and corporate actions to narrow the wealth divide accentuated by the crisis
09:45-10:45	Oil & Gas: What kind of role and place does the government actually want to allow for foreign companies
10:45-11:15	Break
11:15-12:15	Infrastructure: Drawing the lessons from the pandemic
11:15-12:15	Security & Crime: Beyond taking stock, what strategies could really work?
12:15-12:30	Break
12:30-13:30	Recreating sustainable investment flows
13:30-13:45	Closing remarks <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Miguel Alemán Velasco, Chairman of the Mexico Business Summit, Mexico • Quirino Ordaz Coppel, Governor of Sinaloa, Mexico

This is a notional summarized program, paragraphs are added for each sessions in the full version. Sessions may be modified and schedules could be adjusted depending on current events and speaker confirmations.